Healthy Travel Blog Honored as One of Travel Industry’s Best Websites

Blog powered by HTH Worldwide recognized by IGLU

July 14, 2010 (Radnor, PA) — HTH Worldwide, a global health and safety services company, announced today that its Healthy Travel Blog (www.healthytravelblog.com) has won an IGLU Award as one of the Best Health and Lifestyle websites. IGLU is a leading online travel agency serving the United Kingdom and Canada.

IGLU recognized the Healthy Travel Blog (HTB) for excelling at helping business and leisure travelers “maintain good health and lifestyle practices while on the road.” HTB and five other sites were cited as “deserving the large readership they currently enjoy.”

“We launched Healthy Travel Blog because we saw a significant, growing need among business and leisure travelers – they need a reliable source of information that helps them make the most of their travels,” said Angelo Masciantonio, Chief Executive Officer of HTH Worldwide. “HTH is dedicated to promoting safe and healthy world travel, and HTB is one of the many ways we reach out to the traveling public.”

Launched in March 2009, HTB covers health topics ranging from the quality of healthcare services abroad to environmental risks, infectious disease outbreaks, food safety, road hazards and travel health mobile applications. Guest bloggers are welcome.
