HTH Worldwide To Provide International Health Guide to Living Abroad.com

July 22, 2008 (Radnor, PA) – HTH Worldwide, a global health and safety services company, today announced that it will begin offering its CityHealth® Profiles to Living Abroad.com and its multi-national employer clients. HTH's CityHealth Profiles are fact-filled online guides to trusted medical care in hundreds of destinations around the world. Living Abroad offers online tools and destination-driven information for those living overseas or about to be assigned abroad on topics such as health services, schools, housing, neighborhoods as well as local transportation, culture and customs.

Through a new partnership with HTH, Living Abroad is distributing profiles of hospitals, clinics and pharmacy practices in over 700 international locations to dozens of multi-national corporations seeking to reduce the strain of relocating abroad and to improve the likelihood of assignments succeeding. Living Abroad offers online tools and databases to help international employees make good choices when it comes to housing, schools and healthcare providers. HTH's CityHealth Profiles database, which also covers emergency numbers, vaccination requirements and health risks--is the featured content in Living Abroad's health services section of its International Resource Center.

"Our clients look to us for accurate, up-to-date information on local health providers and health risks all around the world," said Michael Cadden, Managing Director of Operations for Living Abroad LLC. "HTH Worldwide's dedication to creating a comprehensive and up-to-date database of global health and safety information gives our clients an important new resource. We are confident in the quality of this carefully researched data and look forward to a long and beneficial partnership with HTH."

"Living Abroad is an organization with an excellent reputation for providing high-quality online resources to those overseas on extended assignments," said Angelo Masciantonio, Chief Executive Officer of HTH Worldwide. "We are pleased to provide them with the best global health and safety information."
